AIM

To ask and answer questions about the future and to write a group poster.

GRAMMAR AND FUNCTIONS

Making predictions: certainty, probability, possibility certain: I'm sure I will, I definitely won't probable: I probably will/won't possible: I might

VOCABULARY

Everyday activities

PREPARATION

Make one copy of the worksheet for each group of up to 12 students and cut them into cards as indicated.

TIME

30 to 40 minutes

PROCEDURE

1. If there are more than 12 students in the class, divide them into groups.
2. Give one card to each student in the class and tell them that they are going to ask and answer questions about the future. Explain that each student is responsible for finding out the information on his or her own card by speaking to everybody in the class or group.
3. Before they start the activity, make sure everybody knows how to ask the question they need to ask in order to find out the information on their cards. Write these headings on the board:
I'm sure I will
I probably will
I might
I probably won't
I definitely won't
and elicit questions and answers:
Student A: Do you think you'll move in the next five years?
Student B: (choosing one of the possible answers) No, I probably won't.
Put a check next to I probably won't.
Student B: Do you think you'll get in shape before your next birthday?
Student A: I might.
Put a check next to I might.
4. Now ask the students to go around the class or group, asking and answering questions and putting a check for each answer in the relevant column on their cards.
5. When they have spoken to everybody in the class or group, ask them to work with two or three other students in their group and write some of the information they have gathered on a poster.
For example:
In our group ...
No students think they will move in the next five years.
Only two people think they will get in shape before their next birthday.
