Age: Teenager/Adult
Level: Pre-intermediate (A2)
Time: 45 minutes
Activity: In this lesson, students will:
1. talk about jobs;
2. do a task based around job adverts;
3. write a job advert.
Language focus: vocabulary for jobs; requirements for jobs; must for obligation
Materials: one copy of the worksheet per student

PROCEDURE

Warmer: Ask students some questions about jobs. For example: What was your first job? (Or, if your class are teens, Do you have a part-time job?) What are some typical jobs in your country? What’s the best way to find a job?

Hand out the worksheet. Ask students to look at Exercise 1, which contains advice about finding a job. They should put the steps in the right order individually. Check answers as a class, allowing students to correct each other if they initially get things wrong.

Key:
1. See what jobs are available.
2. Choose a job that you can do.
3. Apply for the job.
4. Go for an interview.
5. Wait to hear the decision.
6. If you get the job, start work.
7. If you don’t get the job, go back to the first step.

Ask students where they might look to find a job. (Suggested answers could be: in a newspaper, on a student noticeboard, in shop windows, word of mouth, or online.) Ask them to look at Exercise 2. Students read the first four ads and write the name of the job in each one.

Students then work in pairs and write the job requirements for the last three ads.

Key:
bicycle messenger/courier; waiter/waitress; instructor; au pair/nanny/babysitter; students’ own answers

TECH TIP: As an alternative to handwriting their job ads, students could type and post their job adverts on a class blog or private community, such as Edmodo or Google+, to mimic an online job board. Encourage students to comment on the ads to ask further questions about the jobs, or even post their job applications as replies. Or, as an alternative, you could choose one job advert and ask students to email you their applications. Then, in the next class, share the applications and discuss which candidate most deserves the job!
EXERCISE 1: GETTING A JOB

How do you get a job? Read the advice below, and put it in the right order.

☐ Wait to hear the decision.
☐ If you don’t get the job, go back to the first step.
☐ See what jobs are available.
☐ Go for an interview.
☐ If you get the job, start work.
☐ Apply for the job.
☐ Choose a job that you can do.

EXERCISE 2: ONLINE ADS

Look at the first four job adverts below. What are the jobs? Write your answer in each space. When you have finished, look at the three blank ads. Can you write a job description for each?

Bicycle _________________ needed urgently!
You must have a bicycle and a helmet. You must know the city centre well. You must know how to ride fast and safely. You must be physically fit. No experience necessary.

Top-class New York restaurant needs

Good pay and tips. Work evenings and weekends. You must have a good memory. You must have a professional appearance. No piercings! You must speak English. Experience required.

Exclusive gym looking for aerobics _________________
You must be physically fit. You must know how to dance and do aerobics. You must be friendly and have a good attitude. Work mornings and evenings. Experience required.

Hollywood star needs _________________ to take care of six-month-old baby.
Excellent pay and long hours. You must be very patient. You must have lots of experience with young children. Excellent references needed.

Los Angeles

Tour guide wanted for _________________

Lifeguard wanted for Malibu Beach, California.

English teacher required to teach Latin pop stars.
EXERCISE 3: ADVERTISE A JOB

Work with a partner. Choose an interesting job and write a job advert. Remember to include:

- What the job is
- Location
- Salary and hours
- Experience and skills needed