

Intermediate – Share and exchange new ideas

A. You are part of your school's football team and want to raise money for new kits. There are 20 kids in your team, and school can only get you half the money you need. Brainstrom ideas that you can do and how you can collect money from them.	B. You are the new editor of your school's online magazine, which needs a new name. It should include interesting school-related information and articles for all school students, ages 13 to 18. Decide what kinds of things you will include in the school magazine, what it will be called and how you will put it together.	C. Your family will take a road trip to visit the countryside and some other towns and cities around yours. It will be your parents, your sibilings, and you. Your parents have asked you to come up with one or two activities/stops you'd like to do, so you can all decide on a route together. Think of a few places you family can visit, what can you do there, and how you can connect it to your family's suggested activities.
A. You are part of your school's football team and want to raise money for new kits. There are 20 kids in your team, and school can only get you half the money you need. Brainstrom ideas that you can do and how you can collect money from them.	B. You are the new editor of your school's online magazine, which needs a new name. It should include interesting school-related information and articles for all school students, ages 13 to 18. Decide what kinds of things you will include in the school magazine, what it will be called and how you will put it together.	C. Your family will take a road trip to visit the countryside and some other towns and cities around yours. It will be your parents, your sibilings, and you. Your parents have asked you to come up with one or two activities/stops you'd like to do, so you can all decide on a route together. Think of a few places you family can visit, what can you do there, and how you can connect it to your family's suggested activities.

Reflection Point

Sharing and exchanging ideas with other people can often help you think of better and more suitable ideas, and make well-informed decisions.